

work and not break his or her current connection with the railroad industry. The Railroad Retirement Act requires that an employee have a current connection under the RRA for entitlement to certain benefits, including an occupational disability annuity, a supplemental annuity, and survivor benefits. The Board proposes to amend § 216.16 of its regulations in order to add the Surface Transportation Board to the list of non-railroad work that will not break a current connection.

It has been determined that this is not a significant regulatory action for purposes of Executive Order 12866; therefore, no regulatory impact analysis is required. There are no information collections associated with this rule. Because the rule simply reflects a nomenclature change, the Board dispensed with the publication of a proposed rule.
